PROPERTY OVERVIEW

Discover your own slice of Southeast Oklahoma just outside Honobia, which is known for it's annual Bigfoot Festival. This beautiful 5-acre property features a 20+ year-old loblolly pine plantation with a small mix of hardwoods, offering privacy, natural beauty, and a peaceful country setting. A small road has already been opened up through the property, providing drive-in access to the backside where there was a planned homesite with a beautiful view overlooking a nearby pasture, pond, and grazing cows. The land has Highway 144 frontage, with utilities available along the highway, making it a great option for a future cabin, getaway, homestead, or recreational retreat. Wildlife, including deer, are known to roam the property, giving it potential for hunting or simply enjoying nature. Public hunting land is also just minutes away with the proper state permit, making this area popular with both local and out-of-state hunters. Located about 45 minutes from Hochatown, Oklahoma, one of the region's fastest-growing tourist destinations, this property offers a quiet rural escape while still being within reach of restaurants, cabins, outdoo...
